Truman Declares There Were no Clashes in China With U. S. Marines

CHUNGKING, Nov. 5—(AP)—The Chinese Communist New China Daily News reached new heights of virulence against the United States today in charging that Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer's promise that Americans would avoid participation in Chinese internal strife was "nothing but a lie."

The charge against the commander of American troops in China was carried in a dispatch from the Communist headquarters at Yenan. The Americans, it said, not only armed and equipped Central Government troops, "but have invaded our liberated areas in North China, opened fire on us, arrested some of our army personnel and disarmed some of our troops."

When American marines first landed at Chinwangtao, the Communists sent representatives to contact them, but "they were fired upon and had to reply," the dispatch said, adding the Communists withdrew after an hour of hostilities.

Faces Charge Of Desertion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—German born Walter Korten Koch, 29, was held in $25,000 bail today pending his return to Fort Francis E. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo., to face charges of deserting the army.

Inducted into the army in 1941, Koch, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was sent to the Fort Warren guard house on Pearl Harbor day because of pro-German statements. He escaped six months later.

He told FBI agents who arrested him here Saturday night he had come to Washington to find a job. Koch waived extradition today. The FBI said he also faces a car theft charge at Joplin, Mo.

"Koch was indicted by a federal grand jury at Joplin, Mo., Sept. 16, 1942, for violating the national motor vehicle theft act," the FBI statement said. "The stolen car in which the fugitives fled was driven through Vernon county, Mo., where the escapees separated. All had been caught except Koch."

Strife-Torn Java Quiet

By Ralph Morton

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 5—(AP)—Dutch officials were understood today to be considering a plan to gain firm control of a small part of western Java and establish that area as a rallying ground from which they could extend their efforts to end the native nationalist uprising in the East Indies.

The Dutch plan to bring in many more troops, although there has been no official announcement on the subject. Some unofficial estimates of the size of the reinforcements run as high as 20,000 men before Christmas.

Strife-torn Java was quiet today following the flareup of sporadic fighting in the northern section of Batavia during the night, but it was like the quiet before the storm. But the picture as a whole is blacker and more ominous, with tens of thousands of trigger-happy Indonesians armed to the teeth and determined on revolution.

Earlier, in a dispatch from one of its correspondents, the Communist paper had charged the marines with "positively" participating in armed intervention in China's undeclared civil war.

"American marines at Chinwangtao in cooperation with Kuomintang troops attacked Communist-liberated areas for days," it said.

Talk Taft for Candidate For President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—A house Republican urged today that Senator Robert Taft of Ohio be the party's candidate for president in 1948.

The suggestion came from Rep. Mason (Ill.) in what he termed "the opening gun" of the 1948 GOP presidential campaign.

Mason, in an address prepared for house delivery, also:

1. Proposed a cabinet team he said should be placed before voters along with Taft.

2. Proposed that "Jeffersonian Democrats" line up with "Lincoln Republicans" against "New Dealers, Socialists, Communists, professional do-gooders and give-aways."

Mason said that in offering the names of Taft and others, he did not necessarily mean them "but men of their type, kind and quality."

He suggested that former Republican Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts be the vice presidential candidate and that Taft be bound to name a cabinet including:

Secretary of State, Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich); Treasurer, former Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones, A Democrat; War, Gen. Douglas MacArthur; Navy, Rep. James Wadsworth (R-NY); Attorney General, Gov. Earl Warren of California; Postmaster General, former GOP National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton; Interior, Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee; Agriculture, Rep. August Anderson (R-Minn); Commerce, Eric Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce; and Labor, Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.).

Southwestern Greyhound officials said early today everything was running on schedule and they saw no indication of a spread of the strike to that area.

Estes said yesterday he had tried to hold drivers on the job until after the conference but that "after the drivers went out in Kansas City the Oklahoma City drivers refused to stay hitched."

In Washington, Howard Colvin, assistant chief of the Labor Department arbitration service, said the government might take definite steps today to try to end the strike.

The Pacific coast strike was settled about two weeks ago, and Greyhound officials at Los Angeles said they did not expect their employees to be affected.

Sen. Falzone Changes Mind

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5—(AP)—Joseph A. Falzone said today he has changed his mind and will not go to Jefferson City tomorrow to speak before the senate following his week-end resignation during a recess in his hearing on bribery solicitation charges.

"It would be only an idle gesture," Falzone said, "and I have more important matters to attend to. I wanted to express my appreciation for the support of my friends and the fine associations with the men who serve in the senate."

"But they're busy and I'm busy and I simply changed my mind." He said he had not formally applied for permission to appear before the senate. His appearance, as that of any other non-member, would have required a vote of permission by the senate.

The hearing, which was interrupted last Wednesday because of Mrs. Falzone's illness, was terminated automatically with Falzone's resignation.

Post Office Promoted

GRANDVIEW, Mo., Nov. 5—(AP)—The post office in this small Missouri town, where President Harry S. Truman once made his home, has been "promoted" from third to second class, Mrs. Eunice J. Smith, acting postmaster, announced today.

Greyhound Bus Line Employees Are on Strike

Dispute is Over Wages; Conference In Fort Worth

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5—(AP)—Bus drivers and other employees of Southwestern Greyhound Lines, Inc., left their jobs at midnight last night in seven southern and western states, joining striking Greyhound workers in 19 eastern states.

Approximately 300 workers walked out in Texas. Other points affected were in Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado and Arkansas.

Union leaders and company officials said the dispute was over wages.

W. C. O'Kelley, business agent for the Amalgamated Street Railway and Motor Coach Employees Union (AFL) in the southwest, said the union is asking a cent a mile increase in drivers' pay more than the present 4 1/2 cents a mile. The company has offered 5.3 cents.

In the east, drivers receive 5 cents and are seeking 5.75. The company has offered 5.4 in that area.

No change was reported in the situation east of the Mississippi where 4,000 drivers and other employees of six bus lines walked out Nov. 1.

Schedules Affected

At Albuquerque, N. M., Terminal Superintendent Rufus Miller said ticket sales to points in the affected area were halted Sunday morning and about 20 drivers and 25 terminal employees left their jobs. About the same number of drivers for the Pacific Greyhound division were not striking, he said, but since all the terminal workers were Southwestern division employees, it appeared bus schedules moving west would be somewhat affected.

Approximately 125 drivers in Dallas joined the strike, according to C. K. Wilson, member of the Dallas local of the union. He said W. C. Estes, district president at Oklahoma City, had telephoned him and requested the strike. The station, just half an hour before the scheduled walkout, was crowded with hundreds of prospective travelers ignorant of the proposed strike.

A similar number of drivers was affected in the Houston area.

Drivers quit work at midnight Saturday in the Kansas-Missouri area. They went out Sunday afternoon at Tulsa, Okla., and Oklahoma City, W. C. Estes, Oklahoma City, president of the union in the southwest, termed the walkout "unauthorized" yesterday.

O'Kelley said that he is scheduled to meet with P. W. Tibbitts, president of the Greyhound Lines in Fort Worth Nov. 8, to discuss the situation.

Estes said yesterday he had tried to hold drivers on the job until after the conference but that "after the drivers went out in Kansas City the Oklahoma City drivers refused to stay hitched."

In Washington, Howard Colvin, assistant chief of the Labor Department arbitration service, said the government might take definite steps today to try to end the strike.

Holland Case Jury Verdict Is Affirmed

Opinion Written By Judge Westhues Released Today

The supreme court of Missouri this afternoon affirmed the circuit court judgment in the Edgar Holland case, in which Holland was sentenced to the Missouri state penitentiary for life, January 6, 1945.

Holland was charged with the murder of his wife, Mattie Molly Holland, whose headless body was found in the Lake of the Ozarks at the Glaize bridge, in April, 1944. At the same time another body was found in the lake which was identified as Mrs. Pearl Fairfax, Mrs. Holland's mother, with the head also missing.

Following the conviction in the Pettis county criminal court, an appeal was taken on the judgment to the supreme court by Holland.

The opinion affirmed by the supreme court was written by Commissioner Henry J. Westhues.

OPA Gloomy on Tire Situation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—OPA today substituted a pessimistic note on its previous optimism on when tire rationing will end. But the gloomy view isn't shared by the agency which will make the decision.

Officials of the civilian production administration, successor to the war production board, said there is a good chance the program may be terminated by the end of the year or soon thereafter.

Their estimate, given to a reporter with the understanding names would not be used, was sought when the OPA issued a statement designed to tone down optimism generated after OPA Chief Chester Bowles told congress recently that the end of tire rationing was "in sight."

Rationing officials of the agency believe this gave the impression that the end is imminent, and that it might make enforcement of tire rationing more difficult.

Truman Tells Management, Labor They Must Solve Own Troubles in Democratic Way

Testifies Yamashita Refused To Revoke Kill-Destroy Order

By Dean Schedler

MANILA, Nov. 5—(AP)—A Filipino testified today he heard Japanese Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita angrily refuse to revoke an order to "kill all Filipinos and destroy all their cities."

He was Joaquin Galang, second witness brought from protective custody as a suspected collaborator, at the war crimes trial of the erstwhile "Tiger of Malaya."

The first was Narciso Lapus, who admitted freely that he was friendly with the Japanese invaders then directly accused Yamashita of having ordered the islands "rid of Filipinos before the Americans return."

Galang testified that Yamashita showed great anger when Gen. Antonio Ricarte, Filipino politician, beseeched the Nipponese commander in the Philippines:

"I take this time to ask you again to revoke your general order to kill all Filipinos and destroy all their cities."

Yamashita rose, Galang said, clenched his hands and shouted angrily: "An order is an order! It is my order and because of that it should not be disobeyed! It should be followed—happen what may happen!"

The witness said he overheard the argument at Ricarte's house. Galang quoted Ricarte as saying:

"Nobody is at fault for the Filipino's turning guerilla, except that the Japanese are taking their food and torturing them."

Yamashita's answer, Galang said, was:

"Let's not talk about this any longer. The Filipinos are treacherous, hence they are our enemies."

Newspaper Has Nylon Hose Difficulties

MEMPHIS, Nov. 5—(AP)—Memphis stores appealed for "sportsmanship" today after their plan for fair distribution of nylon hose was turned slightly awry.

In a full-page joint advertisement in Sunday's Commercial Appeal, 14 merchants announced that "to avoid riots" the precious leg wear would not be sold over the counter.

Instead, the customer was told to fill out an accompanying coupon and "mail to your favorite store." Orders would be filled as stocks arrived.

More than 200 subscribers called the Commercial Appeal and complained their newspapers had been raided and the coupon removed. One caller said he had four daughters and only one coupon—could he get some more papers?

Extra papers were quickly sold out.

A spokesman for the merchants moaned, "If the public won't be sportsmanlike we are unable to prevent it."

C. M. Van Dyne To New Orleans

Charles M. Van Dyne, former president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, today is in New Orleans, La., where he is to testify before the Civil Aeronautics Board for Sedalia as a proposed stopping point for major air lines. Mr. Van Dyne left Sedalia Saturday and flew from Kansas City to New Orleans.

He is familiar with the present airport conditions, and having studied the wants of Sedalia's place in aviation in post-war days, was selected to represent this city at the meeting.

A. B. Fletcher of the Des Moines, Springfield and Southern State lines, who is an official of a proposed North-South airline, will leave the middle of the week where he will also appear before the board in behalf of the proposed north-south route.

Mayor A. H. Wilks, who was to have gone to New Orleans, was unable to make the trip.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—Selective service today banned the induction of all men with three or more children under 18 years of age.

This will apply, in practice, to men 18 through 25 since older men have been exempt from the draft since the end of the war.

Draft boards have been told to give fathers 18 through 25 a break, all other things being equal, but previously there had been no flat exemption for any of them.

Selective service said it had acted at the request of Secretary of War Patterson and Secretary of the Navy Forrestal.

No Plans for European Trip

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman has no plans for a European visit.

Eben Ayers, assistant press secretary, made this assertion when asked about a report published in Paris that Mr. Truman planned to visit the French capital and Normandy next spring.

Ayers said there have been no arrangements for such a trip.

Country is Worried, People do not Like Industrial Strife Retarding Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—President Truman told management and labor today they must solve their differences because controversies "cannot be allowed to stop us" in the struggle to reconvert to peacetime production.

Addressing the opening session of a labor-management conference of 18 industrial leaders and a like number of organized labor heads, the President said the American people do not like industrial strife that has retarded prosperity, "especially after the solemn promise" of both groups that they would "cooperate with their government."

"I make no effort to fix the blame," Mr. Truman said to the conference assembled in the auditorium of the labor department.

Outside, a picket line had been started before the meeting began by some independent unions whose representatives were not participating.

Must Find Way

Asserting he was anxious to remove all wartime controls as fast as it is possible, Mr. Truman said labor and management must find a way of resolving their differences "without stopping production." He added:

"Finding the best way to accomplish that result without government directive to either labor or industry—that is your job."

The president said the country is worried and "has a right to be" about industrial relations.

"You have it in your power to stop that worry," he said.

"The time has come for labor and management to handle their own affairs in the traditional, American, democratic way."

"I hope that I can give up the president's wartime powers as soon as possible, so that management and labor can again have the full and undivided responsibility for providing the production that we must have to safeguard our domestic economy and our leadership in international affairs."

The president said the conference presented an opportunity to prove that the two groups "can come to an understanding and agreement without political or governmental pressure."

Situation Unexpected

The American people, he said, "never expected anything like the amount of strife which has been threatened" since the war. Mr. Truman continued:

"And I know that the American people do not like it—especially after the solemn promise by representatives of both management and labor that they would cooperate with their government through the reconversion period."

"If labor and management in an industry or in a company, find that they cannot come to agreement, a way must be found of resolving their differences without stopping production."

At the basis of the problems involved, Mr. Truman said, "is not only the right, but the duty, to bargain collectively."

The president said a substitute must be found for jurisdictional strikes and management must not look upon labor relations "as a stepchild."

No Justification

"Business simply cannot stop," Mr. Truman declared, "there can be no moral or economic justification for stopping production while rival organizations contend with each other. Labor has a particular interest in this matter."

For nothing is so conducive of public confidence in the motives of trade unionism as a jurisdictional strike.

"On the other hand, management too often has looked upon labor relations as a stepchild of its business, to be disregarded until the controversy has reached a point where real collective bargaining becomes difficult—if not impossible. It happens all too frequently that in the actual process of collective bargaining, de-laying tactics are practiced with the result that there is no real bargaining. There can be no justification for such tactics at the present time, or in the future."

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The joint congressional committee investigating Pearl Harbor has a hushed up war department report on the disaster, which is going to be very hot to handle. It shows woeful, unexplainable or deliberate neglect inside the army-navy in Washington.

The report, prepared but never released by the army's Pearl Harbor investigating board, directed by Lieut. Gen. George Grunert, is marked "top secret." It unfolds a fantastic chain of developments, beginning November 20, 1941, more than two weeks before the Japs struck.

On November 20, the Japanese government sent a coded message to its embassies in Washington and London, warning them to be on the lookout for an important announcement dealing with the "winds," which would be broadcast on a news program from Tokyo.

This was to be the tip-off to Jap diplomats as to whether Japan would go to war against the United States, Great Britain, Russia—or all three. It was also to reveal whether war would be made against the Dutch. In addition, the approximate time of the breaking of relations with these nations was due to be given.

This communication was known as the "winds alert" message.

It was intercepted and decoded two days later by U. S. experts, according to the secret Pearl Harbor report. Thus Washington higher-ups knew on November 22, about two weeks before the Pearl Harbor attack, that the Japs were definitely preparing for early war.

That same day—Nov. 20—another message was sent by Tokyo to Japanese Ambassador Nomura in Washington stating that November 29 was the "absolute deadline" for Nomura to reach an agreement with the United States.

"After that, things are going to happen," Tokyo bluntly informed the Jap ambassador. The message was decoded by U. S. experts that same day, so Washington knew about it immediately.

On November 28, another communication, known as the "winds code" message, arrived at the Jap embassy, informing Admiral Nomura and his aides in Washington that the war tip-off mentioned in the first "winds" message would come soon.

If the phrase "east wind rain" were broadcast on the news program from Tokyo, it would mean that war with the United States would come at any moment.

If the phrase "west wind clear" were broadcast, it would mean that war between Japan and Great Britain would come at any moment.

War with Russia was to be signalled by the words "north wind cloudy." A similar message, referring to winds, also was included in the coded communication to warn of a Jap attack on the Dutch East Indies.

On December 4, 1941, three days before Pearl Harbor, the awaited announcement came on the daily Tokyo broadcast. It was heard in Hawaii at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. The key words, signalling war against the United States, the British and the Dutch—all three—were broadcast.

Russia wasn't mentioned, indicating that Japan had abandoned all notion of war against Russia, if she ever seriously had any.

About the same time, Tokyo instructed its embassy in Washington to destroy all its code equipment, except the barest essentials necessary to receive one or two more messages, and then to destroy the remaining essentials.

Democratic Tradition Is Road to Industrial Peace

"The American public knows that we cannot . . . maintain our national economy at the high levels required . . . if we cannot have productive peace instead of disruptive war on the industrial front." So Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan wrote to Secretary of Labor Lewis B. Schwellenbach last summer. This letter is credited with having crystallized, for the Secretary and President Truman, the plan to call the National Labor-Management Conference.

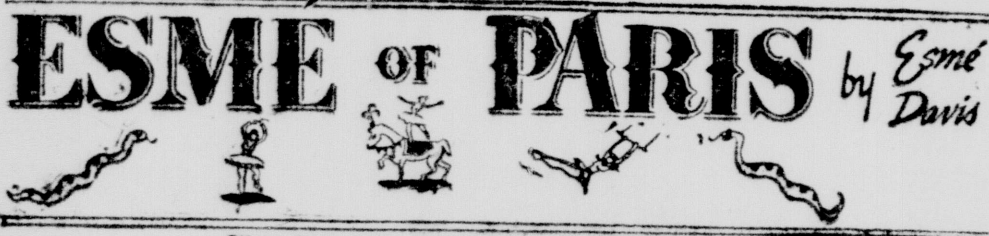

"Responsible management knows," Senator Vandenberg also wrote, "that free collective bargaining is here to stay and that progressive law must continue to support it and that it must be accepted." Also—

"Responsible labor leadership knows that irresponsible strikes and subversive attacks upon essential production are the gravest threats to the permanent success of Labor's Bill of Rights."

Illustrated above are the guiding ideals behind the National Labor-Management Conference in Washington, where representatives of both sides, meeting in the democratic tradition of the conference table, seek to establish long-term policies aimed at bettering human relationships in industry.

MY PORTRAIT IS PAINTED

XXV
PEPITA and I rushed over to the Avenue Malakoff. The doctor and his two assistants were sitting outside the "clique" in the courtyard, afraid to enter. Inside, through the glass door, I could see Botafogo peacefully sleeping on the top of his cage with a considerable bulge in his body—which I concluded was the Angora cat of Madame de Noailles.

A group of excited women with small animals they had brought for treatment were gathered outside the entrance to the stables, all discussing with volubility and gestures the horrible situation; nothing would induce them to enter while the snake was there. "Quoi faire, Madame?" wailed Dr. Regnier. "C'est la ruine pour moi!"—meaning that the behavior of Botafogo was ruining his business.

We found, after managing to get the man to pull himself together, that there was a small laboratory at the end of his apartment where we could easily put Botafogo for the moment. He would probably sleep anyhow while digesting the cat, and in the meantime I would manage in some way to get another place for him. I got Botafogo into the small room easily enough, for he was drugged with sleep and the Angora cat, and we locked him up. Then Dr. Regnier, who was shuddering at the prospect of breaking the news to his client about the loss of her pet (who had been in the family way, poor thing), revived sufficiently to tell me I would, of course, not only have to pay for the death of the cat and her unborn kittens, but also would have to arrive at some compensation for the loss of his clients, since no one would once those messages had been received. In the opinion of those questioned by the Pearl Harbor board, this meant certain war. It meant that Japan had decided to cut off all communication with the United States.

This development, together with the final "winds" broadcast, touched off a fresh frenzy of activity in the high-up army-navy councils. However, as far as the realistic action to prepare our Pearl Harbor defenses was concerned, there was little or nothing done.

The federal communications commission picked up the final "winds" message on its short-wave monitoring system. The navy also got it, but there is nothing in the report to show that the war department was listening in.

The secret Pearl Harbor report reveals that the first information about the broadcast came to the war department when Rear Adm. Leigh Noyes, chief of the naval communication section, phoned Col. Otis K. Sadtler of army intelligence at 9:30 a. m., December 5, and reported:

"Sadtler, the message is in." (Editor's Note—Another installment in Drew Pearson's revelations regarding Pearl Harbor will follow shortly.)

Morgan had worked for a week on the staircase to enlarge it, and the steps now reached from the top of the stage almost to the footlights. Rainbow colors glowed through the crystal steps on my white ostrich-feather costume.

Nina brought Kies van Dongen, the painter a la mode, to my dressing room that night. He had, of course, heard and read all about the Botafogo incident and like everybody else wanted to meet me. He was with his beautiful gray-haired wife, Jasme, and they invited me to one of their famous receptions a day or so later. The parties given by the van Dongens were brilliant highlights of the Paris season. His house on the Rue Juliette-Lambert had an enormous ballroom and a dining room with walls made of black cat, sitting in her apartment surrounded by collections of ribbons she had won in cat shows. They took pictures of my garden, the laburnum tree, and the balcony. The evening papers were plastered with my photograph and carried columns with the story, while the telephone rang incessantly.

Violette came up to Paris at once and introduced me to the directors of the zoo, officials of the Board of Health, and even the great Chiappe, chief of police, in Paris—resulting in the arrival of a car from the zoo for Botafogo the next day, where he was allotted a magnificent, air-conditioned, germ-proof cage, with scientific menus prepared especially for him, and a large brass tablet over the cage with my name on it.

THE opening night of the Champs-Elysees was for a grand gala, and the boxes were crowded with celebrities. Rolf de Mare had adopted the charming fashion, originally used by Diaghilev in the old Chatelet Theater, of placing all the beautiful women in the front-row boxes of the balcony.

De Mare gave me an exquisite set of lights and a cyclorama of silver lame that was simply lovely.

If it fails, Democrat Schwellenbach may be out on his ear. . . One danger signal is the absence of any clear-cut federal wage policy. . . Colmar Blood, Fire Gave 63rd Its Test

By NEA Service

Easily the most awesome of divisional nicknames is that of the 63rd Infantry Division, which goes by the name of "Blood and Fire." The nickname was lifted from the text of the resolution of the Allies at the C a s a b l a n c a Conference to make their enemies "bleed and burn in expiation of their crimes against humanity." The shoulder patch of the 63rd features flames and a blood-tipped dagger.

The men of the 63rd had their first chance at the Germans in the closing weeks of 1944. One regiment—the 254th—made a particularly auspicious debut. Attached to the Third Infantry Division during the savage fight for the Colmar bridgehead, the outfit received a unit citation for outstanding performance of duty, helping to cut off Colmar from the Rhine in what has been described as "one of the hardest and bloodiest campaigns of the war."

In February, the reassembled division crossed the Saar north of Saarguemines, and led the Seventh Army back onto German soil, from which it had been forced to withdraw. A few weeks later, it smashed into the Siegfried Line. Early in April, the 63rd destroyed the 17th SS Division, crossed the Neckar River, and pushed the enemy back south of the Kocher River.

The 63rd followed relentlessly after the retreating Germans. The division chased the Nazis through Wurttemberg and Bavaria down to the Danube, crossed the river and moved down to Landsberg, at the edge of the Bavarian Alps. At the end of March, the 63rd made a distinctive haul—the great university of Heidelberg.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Owing to necessary repairs on electric engine there were no commercial or residence lights in Sedalia last night.

The New Sedalia theatre will present Chas. B. Hanford, accompanied by Miss Marie Dronah, in elaborate presentations of two great plays, "The Merchant of Venice," at the matinee, and "The Taming of the Shrew" at the Saturday evening performance.

The Rev. Frank Y. Campbell preached his introductory sermon as pastor of the First Baptist church to a large audience Sunday morning and was greeted by another large audience at night.

Joe Peltier, who dotes on "Scotch Oats," has secured the necessary letters from the packages to spell the word "spoon" and in consideration thereof will receive 20 pieces of silverware from Chicago.

It is said the "lid" was shipped by at least three local saloon men Sunday and arrests are promised tomorrow, or possibly late this afternoon.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Good Posture Can Conserve Energy

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Poor posture wastes energy and strength, besides creating an unfavorable personal appearance. Greatest waste of energy results from poor walking form, as proper walking calls for relatively little muscle power and range of motion. We average 1900 steps every day and walk approximately 65,000 miles in a lifetime, so it pays to walk correctly.

Nature designed the feet and legs to function best in certain position. In standing or walking, keep your toes pointed straight ahead and pull your arches up, as this distributes the body weight over the feet, and relieves stress and strain on the arches, feet and legs.

Try Three Miles a Day

In walking, the heel absorbs the shock of the step. The weight then shifts forward to the outer side of the foot and on to the ball.

"GREATEST FORD EVER BUILT"

Says Public from Coast to Coast!

"How Soon?" and "How Much?" Ask Throngs in Dealer Showrooms

On October 26 the new Fords for 1946 went on display in dealer showrooms the country over. In city after city, town after town dealers reported that the crowds who came to view these fine new automobiles equalled those who greeted the introduction of the famous Ford Model "A" back in 1927—when showroom attendance passed the 10,000,000 mark.

The opening day throngs were matched by those who came Saturday and later. And their opinion has been unanimous. The words most frequently heard have been "The Greatest Ford Ever Built." They backed up their acclaim with orders—326,840 on "V-8 Day," October 26—and Saturday, October 27.

Alex Kidd Body Buried Here

Graveside services were conducted at Crown Hill cemetery this morning for a young man, tentatively identified as Alex Kidd, who was instantly killed early Wednesday morning, October 31. Reverend G. M. Baker, officiated.

The body, which was taken to the Ewing funeral home from the scene of the wreck, seven miles north of Sedalia on Highway 65, remained at the funeral home until this morning.

It was identified by Thomas Jerry Rodgers and Clyde Lake, as Alex Kidd, whose address was not known. The two boys had been with Kidd out west and left him several days before the accident. Kidd was driving a Ford car which had been stolen at Marshall, En route to Sedalia the car struck a truck and the car swerved, going over a 45 foot embankment.

Efforts to trace relatives of the young man have been futile. State Highway Trooper Pete Stohr has tried to contact relatives in Ely, Nevada, which town had been given him as the former home of the boy. Messages from there were to the effect that no such person resided there.

Diphtheria On the Rise

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 5.—(P)—Diphtheria is on the rise in Missouri, and department of health officials predicted today there would be a similar spread of the smallox this year because of the shortage of medical men in the state.

Last year there were only 161 cases of diphtheria, this year so far there have been 209 cases reported and "we're still in the center of the diphtheria season," Dr. Robert M. James, state health commissioner, said.

"There haven't been as many immunizations, due largely to the reduced staff of public health agencies in the state, and the scarcity of private physicians who are in the armed forces," Dr. James explained.

Health department officials said several districts in the states have no public health medical officers and nurses do all the work. In one county there is only a medical officer but he has no staff.

They urged parents to get their children immunized against diphtheria and smallox, in view of the physician shortage.

Sedalia's in Unusual Club For Aviators

TRENTON, N. J.—The members of the famed Caterpillar Club are now voting by mail on the question of having local posts or chapters.

Sedalia members are: Flight Officer F. B. First, 216 East Broadway, and Staff Sergeant R. P. McPherson, 501 North Prospect avenue.

Founded in 1922, the club was a mythical organization until 1943. At that time, some oldtime Caterpillar members met and elected the following officers: President, Harold Foster; Vice President, Marvin D. McDaniel, and Treasurer, Verne Treat.

The members asked Stanley Switlik, head of the Switlik Parachute Company to furnish office space and defray office and clerical help expense until the club could organize on a local basis. Four other parachute manufacturers contributed to a fund for awarding credential and advertising expense.

Time For Decision

The time has now arrived for the members to decide on a club supported by local units. Besides the formation of local posts of chapters, the plan calls for the promotion of safety in aviation, the issuance of a club publication and the eventual publication of a Log Book containing the emergency jump story, or stories, of each member. Since there are now over 10,000 members and will be around 40,000 when all returns are in, the log book will run into several volumes of high adventure.

Four Lieutenant Generals, Doolittle, Brereton, Eaker and Hunter are members. Several Major and Brigadier Generals and high ranking Naval Officers are on the list.

Abe Silverman Back Home Again

Staff Sergeant Abe Silverman, in service since December 17, 1942, was released Saturday at Camp Crowder, Mo., and returned that day to his home, 524 East Third street, Sedalia, where his wife and daughter, Miriam Frances, aged 15 months, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. Silverman, reside. The baby was born during his absence.

Silverman served 20 months in France and England.

He will resume his life insurance business.

Irish and Army Classic Comes This Saturday

Notre Dame Will Strive to Avenge 1944 59-0 Licking

By Murray Rose
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(P)—One of the top gridiron spectacles of the year—the annual clash between Army and Notre Dame—matches the first two ranking teams of the country Saturday in a game which may decide the mythical national championship.

The cadets will go gunning for the 16th straight victory over a two-year span while the unbeaten Irish will be striving to avenge the 59-0 licking they took from Army last season.

The Irish come up to the big tussle fresh from the eventful 6-6 tie with Navy Saturday while the Cadets were polishing off Villanova 54-0.

Navy will need all its good fortune Saturday when it takes on the improved Michigan Wolverines at Baltimore in the No. 2 contest of the day.

The East has another big tilt scheduled at Philadelphia where the all-conquering Columbia Lions tangle with the powerful, once defeated Penn Quakers for Ivy league honors.

Other important games of the weekend pair Tulsa against Oklahoma A&M, Indiana vs. Minnesota, Iowa State vs. Oklahoma, Oregon State vs. Washington, California vs. Southern California, Utah vs. New Mexico, Mississippi State vs. Louisiana State and Temple vs. Penn State.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(P)—Ray Dumont, baseball's big bright idea man from Wichita, Kas., is a trifle annoyed at references to "cow-pasture" baseball in connection with his national baseball congress tournament. . . . To put a stop to such nonsense, Ray intends to stage a real cowpasture game as a preliminary to next summer's tourney to show the contrast. . . . "This exhibition," he says, "will be staged with a cow attached to each base and a dozen extra ones to roam the outfield. The game should be a cross between baseball and golf, inasmuch as the latter sport features many hazards. The cows will be hazardous. Instead of the tobacco signs in the outfield, we will stake two live bulls near the foul lines and award $25 to any batter who is able to hit them. . . . Also, each fan attending the game will be given a bottle of milk for refreshment."

Unanswered Question
Wonder if that proposal to move the Army-Navy game from state to state each year, on an alphabetical basis, would get much support from Wyoming?

Monday Matinee
Story from the west coast is that Notre Dame is dicker for home-and-home football tilts with both California and Southern Cal, which would give the Irish a game on the west coast every year. The basketball team at Welch convalescent hospital, Daytona Beach, Fla., will be coached by Lt. Walt Krupa, an embalmer.

Forever Amber
Lovely Annette Simmonds, 23 year old twice-married blonde is being considered by 20th Century Fox for the coveted role of "Amber" in Forever Amber. Mrs. Simmonds, who has been given several screen tests by Fox, is really an Irishwoman born in Newcastle, England. (NEA Telephoto)

Navy Ties Notre Dame

When the gun sounded for the end of the game, the fighting Irish of Notre Dame had the ball on Navy's 6-inch line. Just being on the 6-inch line was not enough, however, since the score board read Navy 6; Notre Dame 6. From Navy's 5-yard line, Ruggiero, Notre Dame fullback, smashed over for the first touchdown of the game on a drive off right tackle. (NEA Telephoto)

Missouri Has an Open Date Saturday

Interest in the Big Six this week centers around Norman, Okla., where Oklahoma meets Iowa State Saturday in a game that will have direct bearing on the championship flight. The defending champion Sooners are tied with Missouri in conference standing, each having 3 wins and no defeats.

Missouri has an open date, and Oklahoma must turn back Iowa State if the Sooners plan to make their game with Missouri at Columbia on November 17 a championship affair.

In other conference action Saturday, Nebraska is scheduled to meet Kansas State at Manhattan, Kas.

Kansas goes to Milwaukee, Wis., for an engagement with powerful Marquette.

Ken Fenelon to Meet Garibaldi

Ken Fenelon, Dubuque, Iowa, whose father died suddenly the night he appeared in the wrestling ring in Sedalia two weeks ago, and who has been out of action since that time, resumes his wrestling business Tuesday night. Fenelon is scheduled against Ralph Garibaldi, East St. Louis, in the semi-windup event. The match is anticipated by the fans as another one which will be a good one to witness.

Vic Holbrook, Hollywood, Calif., who has mastered the "abdominal stretch," will endeavor to beat the rough man from Dallas, Texas, Ray Graham, in the main event on the card, Graham, who stood close to the ring last week watching with interest how Holbrook applied the hold on "Big Ben" Morgan, is confident the "good-looking gentlemen" from Hollywood, will not get it on him.

"Holbrook had better keep his mind on his business, because I certainly will try my Texas hold on him. I think it is rougher than Holbrook's hold and certainly more convincing," Graham said.

In the preliminary, Danny Fenelon, cousin of Ken, who also comes from Dubuque, is scheduled to meet Billy Black from Chattanooga, Tenn. Young Fenelon gave a good account of himself last week and won the following of local fans.

Jimmy Parker, a heavyweight wrestler himself, will be in charge of the matches, as referee.

Aided in Jap Surrender

STANGHAI, China.—(Delayed)—Glenwood Paul Moon, seaman, first class, 423 East Broadway, Sedalia, Mo., helped bring about the surrender and immobilization of a Japanese "suicide" garrison a month after the official surrender of Japan's armed forces.

Serving aboard the destroyer USS Waller, a 21-man landing force aided Chinese authorities in the demobilization, on an isolated island off the China coast. Natives said the destroyer was the first U. S. warship in history to visit the ancient Chinese island.

The scene of action was tiny Bunji Island, a suicide naval base in the Chusan Archipelago, 30 miles southeast of Shanghai. The Waller became the first warship to gain access to the area, while supervising minesweeping operations.

When the Jap garrison submitted to demobilization, it had two gunboats and 87 high-speed small craft, designed for suicide attacks

Children Like Sweets In Lunch

Every child likes something sweet in his school lunch, but it is a problem for the mother with her limited sugar supply.

Some desserts take only a little or no sugar. Among these are custards which may be made with syrup or honey; cookies made with honey, molasses or syrup; dried fruit; bread pudding; gingerbread; sweet sandwiches made with

How To Improve Grass Pasture

Here's a way to improve your bluegrass pasture. Lespedeza or sweet clover in bluegrass sod not only increases its productivity, but also improves the stand of the bluegrass. These are some of the results obtained at the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station fields at Lathrop in northwestern Missouri during recent years.

The best method tried consisted of seeding both lespedeza and sweet clover in the bluegrass with the soil being limed and phosphat-ed. The gains by beef cattle on

Modern Two-Bedroom House At From $1,800 To $2,500

A modern two-bedroom house equipment, work clothes, and the like.

The kitchen is equipped with running water and a sink located under a double casement window.
The work space is surrounded on three sides by built-in cabinets, range, refrigerator and similar equipment.

The house can be built for $1,800 to $2,500, says J. C. Wooley, head of the agricultural engineering department at the College of Agriculture. Even lower cost is possible if local cobblestone and gravel are used and the farmer furnishes much of the labor.

This is one of the plans approved for use in the statewide campaign for home and farmstead improvement sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the state advisory committee of farm leaders.

such grazing averaged 185 pounds per acre annually.

The tests showed that disking the dense bluegrass sod increased the stands of both lespedeza and sweet clover sowed.

Governor To Speak Farm Week

Gov. Phil M. Donnelly has accepted an invitation to speak at the first day of Missouri Farm and Home Week, at the University of Missouri on November 19, announced Dean E. A. Trowbridge of the College of Agriculture. The chief executive will tell of the state's reconversion programs now contemplated for the years immediately ahead.

The general theme of the entire two-day meeting, on November 19 and 20, will be "Agriculture and Reconversion." All discussions will be presented in large open-forum meetings in which both men and women will participate.

Farm homemakers attending the program will find especially interesting the discussion of "Farm Home Improvements for the Post-War Period" by Dean G. Carter, professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Illinois.
The part that agriculture should take in our national reconversion program will be discussed by Roy M. Green, former Missourian who is now president of Colorado State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts. Mr. Green gave agriculture nation-wide service during the reconstruction programs of 1933 to 1940, first in the Farm Administration and later as principal agricultural economist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

He was graduated from the Missouri College of Agriculture in 1914.

Other speakers on topics connected with the interests of the farm family during the reconversion period will be announced as rapidly as their acceptances are received. There will be two forenoon sessions, two afternoon sessions and one night meeting.

Pfc. Kenneth L. Shirley is Discharged

Pfc. Kenneth L. Shirley has received his discharge from the 421 Army Engineer corps.
He received his first six months basic training in Ft. Lewis, Wash., and Camp Hawze, Tex.

The last two years he spent in the Pacific on Guadalcanal, Luzon and Manila in the Philippines.

He received the Asiatic Pacific service medal, the good conduct medal and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with one bronze star.

Good Sanitation Pays On Farm

A good sanitation program on the farm more than pays for the extra amount of labor involved.
The value of such a program has been shown clearly with swine but sanitation also is very important with other kinds of livestock, points out Cecil Elder of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

The trend in modern veterinary medicine is toward disease prevention and certainly farm sanitation does play an important part in disease prevention. The expense involved may not be great, but a good program does require a considerable amount of work.

Attention should be given to the construction of barns and pens, being sure that they are so built as to make them easy to keep sanitary. Sometimes some rearranging or remodeling may be necessary, but in the long-run this usually turns out to be a labor saving move.

The fundamental principle of a good sanitation program is cleanliness, so it is imperative that barns and pens be kept clean and that adequate equipment be available for this purpose. When there are outbreaks of infectious or contagious diseases, it may be advisable to disinfect the barns and quarters. Great care should be taken in choosing the proper disinfecting agent.

Even though there has been no outbreak of disease on a farm, it is always advisable to have mat-ternity stalls or quarters set apart for use at the time animals freshen, farrow, or have lambs.
These quarters need to be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected in ample time to have them dry and ready for occupancy before the actual hour that they are needed.
Lye in both hot and cold solutions has been found to be a satisfactory cleaning and disinfecting agent for farm buildings when used in the strength of one 13-ounce can of lye to 12 gallons of water. Pens that have not been

Harrowing Sea Experiences Joe Donahoe

Miss Mary Helen Mayer, 217 South Montebau avenue has received further word from San Jose, Calif., of her nephew, Edward Mayer, U.S.N., member of a submarine crew, who suffered the harrowing September 16th typhoon experience of being swept from the floating repair dock being towed a mile behind a submarine, and being without anything to drink for seven days before being rescued and brought to Okinawa, only to be struck by the October 9th typhoon which damaged or beached over a hundred naval vessels and completely wrecked the harbor at Okinawa.

In a letter to his parents "Eddie" graphically described his second miraculous escape from death within three weeks, as follows:

"Our ship was anchored in the harbor when the wind came up about 3:00 o'clock. By 7:00 o'clock it was terrific. All the ships were bobbing around like corks. Some of the other ships' anchors began to snap and they would go bobbing off toward shore and sure destruction. So many ships had broke anchor that they began to pound into one another and to break to pieces, and pile up on the beach. We could see the men trying to escape, but they were mostly swept out to sea. Only just now their bodies have begun to wash ashore. Many of the ships have not been accounted for. The bells on the bouys were ringing madly. Our ship was pulling on its anchor and edging closer and closer to the shore. We were all praying about as furiously as the wind. Just when we were about to despair our anchor caught in the chain of a bouy that was well weighted down—and our anchor held—it did not break. Our ship was one of the very few that was saved."

In this letter he also tells of an advancement to Machinist 3rd Class with pay of $78 a month—all of which he sends home because there is no place to spend it on a submarine at sea.

I've Lost that FROWN!

PILES certainly can get a person "down"—the disturbing pain, the burning and itching pull you down physically and mentally. But piles sufferers can get quick, palliative relief with Thornton & Minor's Rectal Ointment. It tends to soothe the soreness and reduce the swelling of piles not requiring surgical treatment.

Everybody's asking.. "When can I get new tires?"

HERE'S THE FIRST POSTWAR NEWS ABOUT U. S. ROYALS

When can I get new tires?

It won't be long now. War production is over. The entire facilities of our 5 giant plants are rolling out tires and tubes 100% for civilian use. This great production capacity is devoted to turning out more and more tires for you.

By January 1, 1946 we expect to be making as many civilian tires every day as we made before the war. Next spring we will be turning out more tires than we ever built before.

What about rationing?

We expect the government to continue rationing for at least 60 days. Present indications are it will be removed or greatly relaxed before the end of 1945.

How good will the new tires be?

Since Pearl Harbor, "U. S." scientists have made as much progress in applying synthetic materials to tire manufacture as had been made in the previous three decades with natural rubber.

When you buy your U. S. Royals, you'll buy more than just a good tire—you'll buy a great tire. Car owners are sending us reports from every section of the country that they are getting prewar performance and better from their U. S. Royals.

From tire dealers, tire service men and tire engineers, men who have made tires their life work, the evidence piles up—U. S. Royals are out in front in mileage, in safety, in all-around performance.
